

Cornell University Veterinary Specialists

Transforming Care. One Life at a Time.

Emergency Veterinarian Needed- Stamford, CT. Have it all - career satisfaction, compensation and quality of life. Signing and relocation bonus offered.

Cornell University Veterinary Specialists (CUVS) is seeking an experienced and/or internship-trained Emergency Doctor to join our incredible ECC Department.

We are different. CUVS is not your usual Emergency-Specialty hospital. We are mission-driven to provide the best possible medical care. We pride ourselves on an unparalleled culture that promotes outstanding and collaborative medicine, innovative practice and a phenomenal work environment with a close-knit team of clinicians and staff.

We are committed to a culture of learning that promotes and inspires continual expansion of our Emergency clinicians as professionals, and as individuals.

Professional growth is enhanced through close collaboration with specialists well as journal club, M&M rounds, and the opportunity to participate in resident rounds. A generous CE allowance enables annual travel to national or international conferences, and opportunities exist for interested individuals to participate in clinical trials.

We are also focused on providing and promoting a healthy work environment that ensures clinician well-being and sustainability, particularly in the Emergency Service. A typical work week is 3 shifts (approximating 36 hours/week) with built-in dedicated time built in for medical records. Flexible scheduling opportunities are also available, including a fixed and predictable schedule.

Our level 1 VECCS-certified ECC Service has the staff, expertise, tools and technology needed for optimal patient care and clinical efficiency. The department comprises an Emergency Service and a dedicated ICU, staffed by a robust and talented support team that includes several veterinary technician specialists and client liaisons. We are fully equipped with in-house lab, ultrasound, CT, and advanced monitoring and treatment capabilities.

CUVS has board-certified specialists in Emergency-Critical Care (4), Internal Medicine (3), Surgery (2), Oncology, Ophthalmology, Dermatology, Cardiology, Sports Medicine & Rehabilitation, as well as advanced Interventional Radiology-Endoscopy. Our Emergency doctors are an integral part of the cohesive CUVS medical and leadership teams, working with criticalists 365 days/year, and well supported by other specialists during work hours and on-call.

Located in Harbor Point, Stamford, on Connecticut's "Gold Coast", the area offers beauty, a rich and diverse cultural experience, and myriad water and other outdoor activities. We are 45 minutes from Manhattan and minutes from commuter trains and I-95, offering easy access to other parts of the Northeast. There is truly something for everyone here!

CUVS offers an outstanding compensation package, including a generous time off allowance, matching 401K, medical, dental, pet, disability and life insurance, and access to Cornell's electronic library and resources. Additional compensation benefits include the option for a signing bonus/relocation costs and assistance with finding housing in the area. CUVS is a great place to practice at your best. Individuals with a passion for their work, a strong sense of collaboration and teamwork, and an appreciation for diversity are strongly encouraged to apply.

Please contact: Dr. Susan Hackner, BVSc, MRCVS, DACVIM (SAIM), DACVECC, Chief Medical Officer, at hr@cuvs.org